

AGNES O'KEEFE MURDER VICTIM

Autopsy Throws Light on Gross New Jersey
Mystery.

HOW THE WOMAN DIED

DETECTIVES HAVE HOPES NOW OF SOLVING PROBLEM.

Newark, N. J., Dec. 29.—The woman whose nude body was found on the Hackensack meadows, in the town of Harrison, last Thursday, was stunned by blows on the head and then thrust headfirst into a pool of water. Thus the gross story was told tonight at the autopsy, which left no doubt as to the details of the murderer's work. The body is believed to be that of Agnes O'Keefe, a domestic who had been employed by several families in Orange.

The autopsy was made by Dr. C. H. Schultze of New York, with the assistance and authorization of the coroner and county physician. At its conclusion the lungs and intestines were removed to a laboratory for microscopic examination.

Tells Story of Crime.

The physician discovered that the woman had been struck twice on the back of the head with such force as to render her unconscious, and that while in this state and still breathing, she was pitched headfirst into the pool, where she was drowned. The water at the spot was shallow and the head struck the bottom with sufficient force to roll the water so that her dying gasps drew into the lungs bits of ashes and cinders. There were two abrasions at the base of the brain, behind the right ear.

After inflicting these, the physicians determined, the murderer slit the woman's clothing from the neck down. This was skillfully done, for though the cutting was made with hardly more than a single movement of a keen-edged weapon, that stroke made its way through every thickness of clothing and at no time did the point of the knife enter the body. That the weapon was not used to aid the murder is believed to be due to the hope of the assassin that the case might be mistaken for one of suicide. The shoes and stockings were pulled off with brutal haste, and then, seized by the feet, the woman was stood fairly on her head in the water and so held until she was dead. The organs indicated that the woman had used alcoholic stimulants, but that she had not done so to excess.

Officers Hard at Work.

The detectives are hard at work tracing the life of Agnes O'Keefe, and by this means hope to arrest the murderer. Thousands of persons visited the scene of the crime today and toward evening, when the autopsy was being made, crowds surrounded the morgue. None but those whose evidence might be of value to the authorities were permitted to see the body.

EXPERTS VISIT TIED-UP MINE

Indications That Affairs of Sevier Con. Will Soon Be Cleared Up.

(Special to The Herald.)

Kimberly, Utah, Dec. 29.—There is considerable interest felt in this camp caused by the arrival of five experts from Washington, D. C. They came in on the regular stage and at once got a large amount of provisions and continued over the mountains to the property of the Sevier Consolidated Gold Mining, Milling and Prospecting company. They will make a thorough examination of all the underground workings, and upon their reports hangs the future ownership of the famous Sevier.

At present the property is in the hands of a receiver, George W. Parks, of Salt Lake City, with an indebtedness of over $300,000. The stock, which has been sold, is non-assessable, and as it has been extremely hard to sell stock the past few months, ready cash is almost out of the question. It is thought the men at the mine will be able to make their report in about thirty days, and if it should be favorable, it is reported that the present stockholders will make a voluntary contribution of enough per share to clear up the entire debt and still hold their claim to the property.

Today two mill experts arrived and will leave for the property at once. They, too, will make a thorough examination as to the best treatment of the ore and submit their report to the officials of the company at about the same time the report from the mine is to be filed.

Team members are urged to be present at this evening's meeting to practice for the initiation which takes place on Jan. 6. A joint installation of officers will take place on Jan. 13, in which the Salt Lake Valley camp, Royal Neighbors of America, will take part.

Fraternal Brotherhood.

Scio Lily lodge No. 32, Fraternal Brotherhood, will have many candidates for initiation at the special meeting closing the twenty-third contest, Tuesday evening, Dec. 31. After the short session the members and invited friends will enjoy a watch party.

Royal Neighbors of America.
